

Restoration Ranch

COLORADO

When my husband was killed on December 4, 2020 by three robbery suspects fleeing from police, my life was irrevocably changed. His loss of life started a process of education for me about the stresses and experiences of people who serve in the roles of dispatchers, first responders, law enforcement, fire fighters, members of the judiciary, and emergency room personnel. It is not just the people who interface with the public who experience stress and trauma; those who provide managerial, administrative, and technical support encounter stress as well.

I founded Restoration Ranch Colorado to provide a safe haven for all those professionals mentioned above. My goal with the ranch is that it becomes a place for reflection, relaxation, and recreation for those who serve the public in Jefferson County, Colorado and their families.

My vision is to build a sense of camaraderie with all who come to the ranch including our stakeholder groups, paid staff, volunteers, and our Board of Directors. We work diligently to create a true sense of teamwork and solidarity. Our goal is for attendees to experience heartfelt support and gratitude for all they do to keep the public safe. With your support we will succeed.
